Mrs. Hepburn stated in her address that there were 8,000,000 women carning their living in the United States alone, and working under conditions over which they have no control. This condition, she said, was demanded by the present social and industrial conditions, and because they have no control over their Lours of work, the young womanhood of America is being destroyed in an industrial warfare. The destruction of men and women by our industrial conditions, she asserted, was as shocking as the destruction of men in the European War.

CROOKS REAP HARVEST AMONG VISITORS AT FAIR

Pickpockets and Purse-Snatchers Ply Wisconsin Sent $1,000,000 Worth of Their Art in Crowds With Much Success.

Homer P. Bernier Attacked by Footpads in Corner of Midway-Detectives Alert, but Professional Thieves Get Into Grounds.

Thieves Get Into Grounds.

Pickpockets and purse-snatchers plied their art yesterday afternoon and last night with more than usual success, and the temporary police headquarters of the city department received numerous complaints. Homer P. Bernier, of 509 West Grace Street, was knocked down and robbed in a corner of the Midway last night, and was picked up unconscious by two Boy Scouts who found him. They took him first to their own tent, where they called Dr. Walker, in charge of the ambulance service, and he was taken to the emergency hospital, where he was treated by Dr. Whitehead.

Mr. Bernier said that he was called aside by two strangers. One of them knocked him down and the other went through his pockets, abstracting $5. He suffered a severe blow in the stomach; but was revived by first-aid treatment. W. H. Galey, of 1423 Bainbridge Street, South Richmond, reported that his pockets were picked of $20. He was caught in the crowd in the Midway afternoon rush when he felt the money being withdrawn from his pocket. The light-fingered gentry was too quick for him, and he was unable to select a possible thief from those immediately around him.

W. W. Blair, of Hampton, was relieved of $30 and his return ticket. He did not know when or where it happened.

J. L. Ferris, of 219 East Ninth Street, South Richmond, had $3.90 stolen from the South Richmond, old not know when or where it hap-pened.

J. L. Ferris, of 219 East Ninth Street, South Richmond, had $3.90 stolen from his pockets.

F. J. Rose, of 1922 Brook Avenue, was enjoying one of the Midway shows when a purse containing $25 was pil-fered from him.

Miss Willie Sledd, of Ellerson, re-ported that a bracelet was stolen from her.

Miss Willie Sledd, of Ellerson, reported that a bracelet was stolen from her.

W. Byron, of Fpedericksburg, was relieved of $6 and a return ticket.

The pocket-picking yesterday was probably that of professionals. The grounds are well policed, and private detectives have been brought here especially because of their knowledge of professional criminals. But some managed to clude them and get inside the gates, after which their work was easy.

"It is almost impossible to know them all," said a detective yesterday. "Some will get by us, though we are constantly on the watch for them."

In addition to these thefts, J. W. Mitchell, manager of the fat girl in a show on the Midway, reported that his charge had been robbed of a gold ring, a black lace dress and some blue dress goods. He reported also the disappearance of the fat girl's colored maid, believing that her departure is connected with the loss of the fat one's ring and dresses.

Doctors and nurses connected with the emergency hospital on the Fair Grounds were kept extremely busy yesterday, when the ambulance, in charge of Dr. Whitehead, attended eight people, and the hospital corps treated sixty-five cases.

Several women fainted in the Midway crush during the afternoon, and several others fainted last night. In addition there were many minor accidents which necessitated a physician's attention.

One of the most serious cases was that of Woamoed Amzzal, a member of the Arabian troupe showing in front of the grand stand, who, while sitting in front of his tent after the performance, was bitten by a spider. The poison spread rapidly through his system, and took him to the emergency hospital. He was later sent to the Virginia Hospital, and that he might have not rouble in getting in and making known his wants Dr. Whitchead gave him a card of introduction. It is unlikely that he will be able to appear in the performances this afternoon.
